

Aunt Tootsie's Blue Shoes: Sequencing

Read the following paragraph, then number the scenes below in the order they happen.

I like to go places and Mom knows I do. So as a treat for my birthday Mom took all of us out to a bunch of places—on my birthday! We got up early and went to the park where I played on the swings, but there was a pool across the street and I like to swim so Mom said we could go there, too. Boy, oh boy, what fun! After our fun in the water we were all very hungry and so—just for my birthday—we ate pizza at a round table outside at the restaurant—good pizza! Mom and my brother, Brad, wanted to see the new hero movie, and that was ok with me, too. I got popcorn and a giant drink. It was a good movie. Then Mom said we had to go to the Mall to get something, but I was tired and said it was my birthday and I wanted to go home, but we went to the Mall anyway and . . . I'm glad we did—because that's where Mom bought my birthday present—a brown and black spotted puppy. We took him home with us and I named him Spot. Best Birthday EVER!
