

Pirate's Hook for Your Hand

Sailing is something that pirates often do. Sometimes they have hooks for hands. Here's how to make a hook for your hand so you can sail in your closet as a pirate might. (Ask an adult to help you.)

You will need ----

1. A Styrofoam 8 ounce (or larger) cup
2. A small sized (8 1/2 X 11 inches) piece of cardboard or heavy cardstock.
3. A pair of Scissors
4. The hook pattern (found on next page)

Let's Get Started----

1. Begin this project by making some space for this craft. The floor will do nicely.
2. Print instructions and hook pattern. Trace the hook pattern onto the cardboard.
3. Cut the hook out. Be sure to have an adult help you with the scissors.
4. Make a small slit in the bottom of the cup—just large enough to slip the end with the X on the hook into the bottom of the cup. Slip the hook through the slit in the cup up to the line on the hook (about an inch).
5. Now, slip your hand into the cup and hold the end of the hook. There---you have a pirate's hook!
